—The Chautauqua Literary Circle will meet at the residence of Rev. J. M. Ruthrauff this evening at 7:30

—The name of the town of Yellow Creek in Stephenson county is to receive the more euphonious cognomen of Pearl City.

—Jay C. Mead is taking the telegraphy course at the college and expects some day to be an expert manipulator of the key.

—The pupils of the school at Lee Centre are projecting an exhibition and supper to raise funds for replenishing their library.

—Lovers of oranges ought to go to Florida. It is said that one tree in that state yielded the past season 15,000 specimens of that luscious fruit.

—We are told that the announcement may be daily expected of the marriage of a well-known old citizen who has been out of town for the past few days.

—George Stainbrook is in Paw Paw today, where he went last night to hold a sheriff's sale of the property of William Schlagle in favor of F. H. Chaffee —Dr. Grim, of Franklin Grove, has purchased the Dow building in that village and is fitting it up for a modern drug store, to be occupied by J. N. Woods.

—Charles E. Ebert has resigned the business management of the Dixon Ice Company, though he still holds stock in the company and is acting secretary.

—H. L. Sawyer, who has been ill for some time, is improving, but it will probably be a week yet before he will be able to resume his work as secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

—Today as the wearing of the green seems to be the fashion with the citizens of Dixon, generally, THE TELEGRAPH doffs its hat to St. Patrick and dons an entire suit of the favorite emerald hue.

—Rev. James McKim, formerly a resident of Sterling, now a missionary to the Japanese, was recently, by the controlling board of the Episcopal church at its meeting in New York, elected Bishop of Japan.

—Thomas Brennan, an old resident of Peoria, was found dead in his bed Wednesday morning, having retired the night previous in perfect health. He was 67 years of age, and resided in Peoria 55 years.

—During the recent freshet Inlet Creek rose so high that it was unsafe to cross. One horse and buggy at Lee Centre in attempting it was struck with a cake of floating ice and barely escaped being carried away.

—Miss Della Drumhill, of Three Rivers, Mich., has arrived in Dixon from eastern cities, where she has been trimming, preparatory to the opening of Mrs. M. A. Robbins' millinery establishment in this city next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at No. 12 East First street.

—The New York Sun truthfully says: "Good roads have been built in many parts of the country, but no roads ever remained good where taxes were 'worked out' in repairing the roads. Some continuous and intelligent, even if not absolutely scientific, supervision of road repairs must be had. Otherwise all the time, labor and money bestowed on building good roads will be thrown away."

—Married, at eight o'clock last evening in the presence of a number of friends, at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. John Grant, on First street, Mr. Alfred J. Carlson and Miss Ingrid C. Jiffson, Rev. Wm H. Hartman officiating. The young people are lately from Sweden, but are now residents of Dixon. They received a number of very handsome presents as an evidence of the esteem and well wishes of their friends.

The Law in Regard to Estrays.

We have had occasional inquiries with regard to the necessary legal requirements of a party who takes up an estray animal. For the benefit of others who may desire the information, we give in brief the necessary process of procedure:

If you take up a stray animal you must within ten days give notice to your township clerk, who must make an entry of the same; then you advertise the animal in your local paper, and sixty days after such advertisement has appeared, you apply to a justice of peace to sell the animal. He issues a warrant to a constable, who gives ten days notice by posters and sells it, and you get your pay for expenses. The penalty for taking a stray animal and not giving notice is $5 and besides this the owner can come upon your place and take it away without paying you anything.

St Patrick's Day.

This is St. Patrick's Day, a day celebrated in the annals of Ireland and observed wherever the Emerald Isle is known. Dixon paople faithfully remembered the faithful saint this morning, and the color which was most visible to every eye was green, and the emblem most conspicious was the shamrock. The local Catholic church loyally observed the day of its patron saint. There was no parade as has been customery in previous years, but a large congregation assembled at St. Patrick's church this morning. Father Fegers, of Sterling, celebrated mass and Father Fagan, of Chicago, preached a sermon on St. Patrick. The address was a panegyric and all who heard it were pleased and benefitted, for the discourse was eminently patriotic, as well as historic and pathetic. George McMann sang an "Ave Maria" and as the people were leaving the church Ed. F. Cahill, sr., played a cornet solo, 'St. Patrick's Day"

The College Contest.

One of the events of the school year at the Normal is the holding of the annual contest in each of the societies. The victors in the preliminary contest of one society meets the victors in the other in a grand inter-society contest held the succeeding term. Tonight Aurora contestants will struggle with each other and tomorrow night the Vespera will hold its interesting contest. Strong's Orchestra will furnish music tonight. The first on the literary programme is a debate between Miss Cora Littleton and A. Richards; contest in recitation between Chas. H. King and L. W. Miller will follow; F. J. Zimmerman, F. L. Harned are pitted against each other in oratory; and Misses Amoret Alford and Virginia Gray close with the presentation of their essays. The most interest in both contests attaches to the rivalry for the oration prize. Of the Aurora participants F. L. Harned is the better known, but his opponent, F. J. Zimmerman, is said to have a good production. In the Vespera A. J. Beattie will meet F. I. Buckingham. The former is a deep thinker and logical writter. His opponent F. I. Buckingham, while not known as a reasoner, is a striking speaker, his work being dramatic in its style, as his stage experience under the name of Lorenzo Duke would imply. The judges in the Aurora are, Judge R. S. Farrand, Prof. F. H. Clark and Dr. Geo. W. I. Brown; in the Vespera, County Supt. J. C. Edwards, Prof. W. H. Williamson and Rev. H. C. Granger.

An Accidental Shooting.

One of the most frequent causes of accidents and disasters is the keeping of a loaded weapon in a home. From the time when first the possession of guns became common such accidents have happened; and it is certainly wonderful that children will seek for a fire-arm with such fatal avidity. Last evening about six o'clock Charles, five-year-old son of Mr. Sheffler, who lives on the Sterling road in Palmyra, three miles from this city, was playing alone in the family bed-room. In this room there is a large trunk, which although not locked, is strongly fastened by a clasp. With peculiar skill, the child succeeded in opening the trunk, and with juvenile curiosity aroused, proceeded to examine the articles contained in the trunk. He lifted out the tray and rummaged through the various things in the space beneath, and finally found a small, loaded, 22-calibre revolver, which he took out and handled. While playing with this weapon it exploded. The little fellow, who was severely injured, ran to his mother and cried that he was hurt. In the explosion his hand had been pinched and was bleeding; Mrs. Sheffler thought his hand was cut simply and tried to soothe the little sufferer, but he complained of pain in his body. Upon examination it was found that the bullet had entered a little left of his breast-bone near the lower rib and was lodged beyond, none of the more important organs being apparently up to this time effected. The extent of the injury cannot of course be known yet, but Charles is not suffering extreme pain today and is resting fairly comfortably. The parents are not at all to be blamed for carelessness in this matter for the pistol was securely placed away, and it was only through extraordinary circumstances that the child obtained it; still it is a lesson upon the unwisdom of keeping a loaded weapon in a home.

—At the C. & N. W. R'y depot last night a west bound freight train collided with the rear end of another freight, with the result that the way-car of the latter train is in rather damaged condition today.

—In a neighboring town a farmer took twenty-five dozen eggs to market the other day, exchanging them for the following articles: One barrel of flour, a bushel of meal, a pound of tea, a pound of coffee, five pounds of sugar, a pound of soda, a gallon of kerosene oil, a bar of soap, a gallon of molasses, a quarter pound of tobacco, half a gallon of vinegar, a package of mixed spices, and a calico dress pattern, and then when he got home his wife gave him blue blazes because he did not get a sack of salt also. If he had only taken along a hog with the eggs he could have got the salt and bought out the whole town.

WILL TURN 'EM OUT.

Democrats Decide to "Fire" Senate Officials.

BRIGHT TO BE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS,

And Cox, of North Carolina, Clerk—The Move Likely to Precipitate a Struggle as the Republicans Object—Confirmations Laid Over Until Next Week—Signs of Change Observed in the Chamber—White House and Department Notes—A Senator Loses His Hat.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Democratic caucus committee, which has been considering the question of whether or not the reorganization of the senate shall be completed by the election of officers, was in session for several hours last evening and decided in favor of proceeding with the work of turning the Republicans out. The report of the committee will be presented to a caucus of the Democratic senators on Tuesday next and it is understood will recommend the election of ex-Representative Cox, of North Carolina, to be secretary of the senate, and Colonel Richard Bright, of Indiana, as sergeant-at-arms.

Republicans Likely to Resist.

It is said with reference to changes in the official places of the senate that the Republicans have been preparing a plan of their own. It is an open secret that a number of Republican senators favor an organized opposition to any attempt to reorganize the elective officers at this time. It was said yesterday that the Republicans have already discussed the matter and have notified the Democrats that such an attempt would be very distasteful to them. This is accepted as a declaration that the Republicans will oppose such reorganization, the precedents of the body being against a re-organization at an extra session of the senate. It is also said that a number of the older and more conservative members of the party among the Democrats are in favor of permitting things to remain as they are until the regular session of the joint houses, whenever that may be.

Would Result in a Long Struggle.

Two members of the "steering" committee are reported as being opposed to reorganization at this time. The caucus, however, having voted to take up the task of reorganizing it seems to be quite certain that the struggle will be long and protracted. As a matter of fact the senate has never been reorganized in this particular at a similar extraordinary session. The Republicans attempted it in 1881. Republicans now say that they desisted from this attempt as soon as they learned that they were seeking to violate the precedents of the senate.

Not Hurrying the Confirmations.

From its action yesterday it is evident that the senate intends taking its time in the matter of confirming appointments. It was supposed that as soon as the committees were reorganized the nominations so far would receive prompt attention, and there seems no reason why the nominations now in were not confirmed yesterday. The adjournment to Monday puts off the day of assumption of duty by the new officials to the middle of next week. A prominent senator on the Democratic side said yesterday morning that the senate would not be in any great hurry to go into the business of confirming nominations and intimated that possibly they would wait until the elective officers of the senate had been reorganized. As soon as this was done, he said, the senate would confirm every nomination sent to it up to that time.

Great Transformation in the Senate.

The change that has already come over the senate was patent to the most inexperienced observer yesterday. As soon as the body adjourned after its brief session the office-seekers who have been thronging the corridors for days past found entrance and an opportunity to see their senators. And they all found their way to the Democratic side of the chamber with the result that nearly every senator seated there was soon surrounded by a group of wistful-eyed men or was obliged, in self-defense, to flee to the retiring rooms or the committee rooms. On the other side of the chamber the Republican senators sat at their ease and were unmolested observers of the scene. Some of them jokingly complained they had lost popularity, and the leaders, like Allison, Frye, Manderson and others who rarely have a moment to themselves had leisure to sit quietly and commiserate with their hard beset colleagues on the Democratic side.

Another Sign of the Change.

Another thing that marks the change in senate politics is the new clerks to standing committees. All these had for years been Republicans, but the process of putting the ins out and the outs in is progressing rapidly and there are many new faces in those positions. But there are two clerks who will not be disturbed. Thomas P. Cleaves has been the clerk of the committee on appropriations for twenty-two years and has figured appropriations and estimates under all administrations. Cockrell, the present chairman of the appropriation committee, has announced that he will remain. Benjamin Durfee, the clerk of the finance committee, will also be retained, but not in his capacity as clerk, that place having been given to the son of Chairman Voorhees.

WHITE HOUSE AND DEPARTMENTS.

Somebody "Hooks" Senator George's Hat—Callers on Gresham.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The president went through the daily round of listening to applications for office yesterday. Nearly every state and territory was represented in some way—either by a claim for recognition or a friendly call—the kind the president likes best. It is believed that the pension commissionership has been decided upon and that General Catlin, of Brooklyn, will succeed Raum, whose resignation was accepted yesterday. Senator Palmer, of Illinois, was a caller and wanted to talk over appointments in the state, but what he said is a secret. William McAbee, of Chicago, wants to be public printer.

Two Visitors Lose Their Hats.

Among those who saw the president was Senator George, of Mississippi. When he left the president's room he could not find his hat and went away with his overcoat drawn tightly over his head. Senator George is the second unfortunate in this regard within a week. Teeny Rucker, of Athens, Ga., left the White House hatless a few days ago. Mr. Maxwell the new fourth assistant posmaster general, had an extended interview with the president. It is presumed that the talk related to the distribution of fourth-class offices.

Interviewed the State Secretary.

Although it was diplomatic day at the state department Secretary Gresham was favored with the usual number of callers, who came to see about missions and consulships. Martin, the new Kansas senator, presented quite a number of the residents of his state, including Representative Hudson, one of the two Democats in the delegation in the Fifty-third congress. Honorable Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne, Ind., a member of the Mississippi river committee, an old friend of the secretary, had a brief interview. Honorable W. E. English, also of Indiana, who wants to go to Sweden, was among the callers.

Land in the Cherokee Strip.

Active preparations are about to be begun by Secretary Hoke Smith for opening the Cherokee strip under the provisions of the Indian appropriation act ratifying the agreement with the Cherokees. The ceded tract contains 8,144,622 acres. A number of allotments are to be made to the Indians before the strip can be opened, and a list of them published for the protection of the settlers. Rules and orders regulating the occupation and settlement must be prescribed and published twenty days before the issuance of the president's proclamation. Settlers are required to pay $2.50 per acre for land east of the 97½ parallel, and $1.50 per acre for land taken between the 97½ and the 98½ parallel, with 4 per cent. interest from date of entry to date of final payment.

The Million Dollars Was Light.

At the treasury department it was found that the $1,000,000 in gold shipped by Denver banks in exchange for small notes was nearly all light coins. Much of the gold offered from other points was also found to be light. When this is the case the coin is only taken by weight and then stamped with the word "light." In these cases the bank suffers the loss and Denver banks complain that it will reach $11 on each $1,000.

Miscreant Schneider Will Hang.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Secretar Gresham saw the president yesterday on Howard Schneider's behalf, at the request of freinds of the Schneider family who are also friends of his own. One of the doctors enganged by the condemned man's friends also had an interview with Cleveland, but it is intimated that after giving all the facts the most careful conscientious examination possible, the president has concluded that it is his duty not to interfere with the due course of the law. The execution will therefore take place today.

Stewart Is "Between the Lines."

WASHINGTON, March 17.—During the senate session yesterday several Republican senators talked earnestly with Senator Stewart, possibly in explanation of the party necessity which had impelled them to drop him from the minority membership in the appropriations committee. Senator Stewart professes to be entirely satisfied with his situation, being at liberty to vote with either party or against any measure which does not commend itself to his own judgment, irrespective of party considerations.

The Nihilist Protest Was Vain.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Exchanges of the ratifications of the French and Russian treaties, which were recently ratified by the senate, will take place in Paris and St. Petersburg, respectively, probably before the end of next week. Strong protests have been made against the Russian treaty—which contains a clause extraditing those who attempt to take the life of the czar—by Nihilists in this country.

New York Senators Not Kicking.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Senator Murphy, of New York, was asked last night if the report was true that he would attempt to prevent the confirmation of President Cleveland's New York appointments. He said: "There is no truth in it whatever. The New York senators will do nothing to delay confirmation." The appointments so far have not been what Tammany would approve.

Will Be Death on Dog Fights.

MADISON, Wis., March 17.—In the senate a bill has been passed authorizing the destruction of dogs captured while fighting under direction of their owner or some person representing the owner. The senate has killed the bill requiring the construction of wire fences along public highways. A bill to enable religious and church corporations to form fire insurance companies for the purpose of insuring church property was passed. In the assembly the joint resolution to provide for the investigation of the feasibility of the treatment of drunkenness as a disease was reported by committee for indefinite postponement. The Fitzgerald road bill came up as a special order and was laid on the table.

Home Rulers and the British Flag.

LONDON, March 17.—There was an exciting scene in Dublin Wednesday after a Unionist meeting. Three hundred Trinity collegians paraded the streets bearing the British ensign. A large and menacing crowd followed, yelling "Tear it up!" and singing "The Boys of Wexford." The students, armed with cudgels, repulsed the ugly rushes of their opponents, who, however, seized the flag. At Grafton street a sharp struggle ensued until the flag was recaptured and the collegians re-entered the college. There were several skirmishes later in the evening. The police finally dispersed the rival factions.

Man and Wife Commit Suicide.

MILAN, Tenn., March 17.—In a lonely cabin near Reelfoot lake, in Lake county, there were discovered Wednesday the dead bodies of a man and woman clasped in each other's arms. An empty revolver lying between them told the tale. A note lying by the bedside said: "Neighbors, we are going home, never to return. We were miserable in life, but will be happy in death. Farewell." It was signed Abner and Jennie Carter.

Miss Cozzens Secretly Married.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Coroner Messmer when asked yesterday if there were any developments in the Cozzens case said that he had been informed on most excellent authority that a reputable elderly woman had declared that Miss Cozzens was secretly married, but she would not make any positive statement or reveal her name or address until she had made sure of the identity of the suicide.

An Old Veteran Fatally Ill.

NEW YORK, March 17.—News has reached here from California of the serious and probably fatal illness of General Erasmus D. Keyes, one of the oldest surving generals on the Union side in the war of the rebellion. Little hope is entertained for his recovery, owing to his advanced years. He is 82.

How a Cardinal Comes to Cologne.

COLOGNE, March 17.—The new cardinal archbishop, Dr. Kremenz, has arrived from Rome and was received with all the honors of a prince of the church. He was conducted to the cathedral where, sitting on a throne, he received the homage of the people.

NERVE AT CHICAGO.

Bold Robbery Committed at the Windy City

AT NOONDAY IN THE COURT HOUSE.

A Bank Collector Garroted and Two Packages of Money Taken, the Robber Escaping Without Leaving a Clue—Murder and Suicide Committed by a Lover, the Victims Both Being from Milwaukee—Emigrant Thrown Off a Train and Robbed of $1,500.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Chicago has the prize robbery to report, which is right in line, for she tries to have everything first-class. The peculiarity of this robbery is that it took plate at high noon right in the court house; right under the noses of the judges and right over the noses of the police department. H. G. Fox, a First National bank collector, was the victim and the place was one of the staircases of the court house. He had just received $300 from the city treasurer and $600 from the county treasurer and was descending the dark stairway to the main floor of the building when at the turn of the staircase some man, whom he had not seen, threw his arms about his neck and choked him almost to insensibility. The man then grabbed the two packages of money, and rushing down the stairs escaped through the Washington street entrance into the street.

The Robber Easily Gets Away.

When Fox recovered from the choking which he had received, and while still in a dazed condition, he wandered down the staircase to the lower floor and notified one of the police of the building of his loss. The two men rushed into the street in hopes the man might be still in sight, for it was thought he would be running rapidly from the scene of the holdup. They saw no one whom they believed to have been guilty of the crime and went at once to the city police headquarters were they reported the case. Officers were at once sent out to scour the central part of the city for the robber. They had very little to work upon. Fox was unable to give any description of his assailant. The man came upon him so suddenly and the stairway at that turn is so dark, the only light reaching it being from the floor above and below, he had no opportunity whatever of getting any kind of description of the man.

Desirable Field for Nervy Crooks.

The messenger makes frequent visits to both the city and county treasurers, but can scarcely recall a single instance where he has walked down the stairs instead of taking the elevator. Scarcely a building in the city affords such a desirable spot for a robber to get to work in the busy time of the day. The county building corridors are wide and the stairways, flanked by massive metal railings, are situated as far from the light as the architect found it possible to put them. On the brightest days one can scarcely descend these stairways without feeling each step before taking it, and on a day as cloudy as yesterday the stairways are literally as dark as a pocket.

Hardly a Possibility of Capture.

Fox says he was utterly unable to catch any view of the robber's features. Bewildered and dizzy from the sudden attack he was unable to pursue the robber until the latter had had sufficient time to make his escape and thoroughly lose his identity amid the crowds in the corridor. Some of the officers even admit that there is scarcely a possibility of his apprehension, and one said that it was not at all unlikely that if the robber is what is known in police parlance as "a good man" he was one of the foremost in the group to surround the unfortunate messenger and commiserate with him over his loss.

TWO RASHLY IMPORTUNATES.

Young Lovers of Milwaukee Die Together at Pass Christian.

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss., March 17.—A most startling discovery was made here yesterday of the bodies of Miss Alma Nunnemacher, a daughter of Herman Nunnemacher, a prominent merchant of Milwaukee, and Mr. William B. Miller, also of Milwaukee, both of whom were shot through the head. Miss Nunnemacher had been spending the winter here with her parents and last week Mr. Miller, to whom she was engaged, arrived here. Her parents opposed the match, and on Friday afternoon after luncheon she left the house, and as night came on and she did not return, and Mr. Miller had also disappeared, it was supposed that they had gone off to be married.

Done in the Desperation of Love.

On Sunday the parents left, hoping to find their daughter in New Orleans. Yesterday afternoon a young boy found the bodies in a pine thicket on the north side of the railroad about 200 yards from the station. From the position in which they were lying the supposition is that the young man must have first shot his companion through the left temple and then shot himself behind the right ear, and death in both instances must have been instantaneous.

Evidently a Premeditated Act.

The affair was evidently premeditated as Mr. Miller had borrowed the pistol from one of the citizens on that morning. The deadly weapon was found by his side where it had fallen after he had fired the fatal shots. The news has been telegraphed to Miss Nunnemacher's father, who is in Hot Springs. The bodies are lying in Lange's undertaking parlors awaiting interment.

DISAPPEARANCE OF AN EMIGRANT.

A Bloody Fur Cap Indicates That He Was Murdered.

PITTSBURG, March 17.—The mysterious disappearance of Andrew Johnson, a passenger on the Fort Wayne day express, at Massillon, O., Wednesday morning, is still puzzling the minds of the police officials along the line. His family is still at the emigrant rooms on Grant street, awaiting anxiously for some clew as to his whereabouts. It is now thought that Johns n was robbed and then murdered by a gang of gamblers who followed him from Chicago to Massillon.

Evidence of a Terrible Fate.

A fur cap was found on the track. The cap is covered with blood stains, giving evidence that its owner must have met some terrible fate. It answers the description of the cap worn by the missing man. All the police officers at Massillon, Mansfield, Canton and Alliance have been notified and are looking for clews that may lead to the apprehension of Johnson's assailant.

Thrown Off the Train.

LATER—The missing emigrant has been found at Massillon. He says he was thrown off the train and robbed of $1,500. His daughter, who can understand English, says she heard two men talking on the train about robbing he rfather and warned him of it. Just before he was missed he gave his tickets to his daughter and went into the smoking car, and later on stepping out on the platform was pushed off the train.

Good Defense if They Can Prove It.

KITTANING, Pa., March 17.—The Leechburg bank robbers' trial, now in progress here, promises to be one of the most sensational cases of recent times in western Pennsylvania. Dr. Wykoff, the leading figure in this trial, is the son of a well-known Buffalo physician and had been about two years in Leechburg. The result of the attempt to rob the bank was the fatal shooting by one of the robbers of Councilman Schafer, who went to help arrest the burglars when the alarm was given. The accused will set up an alibi.

Charged With Arson.

CHICAGO, March 17.—The coroner's jury inquiring into the responsibility for the Garden City Molding company's fire on North May street Wednesday morning and the death of two persons by a falling wall of that building, last night brought in a verdict holding Stephen J. Carter, the principal owner, to the grand jury on the belief that Carter set fire to the building.

An Epidemic of Burglary.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., March 17.—An epidemic of burglaries has broken out here to such an extent that the citizens have become terrorized. The gang, which is evidently well organized, has been successfully operating for several months in this vicinity. Wednesday night seven residences and business houses were entered, but the booty secured was small.

Chinaman Sentenced to Hang.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Jung Lack Lin, who murdered Jung Din Kok on Jan. 7 last, was yesterday found guilty of murder and his punishment fixed at death, by a jury in the criminal court. A motion for a new trial was at once made.

ILLINOIS GRAND ARMY MEETS.

A Large Gathering of the Boys in Blue—Nominations for Office.

SPRINGFIELD, March 17.—The state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was called to order yesterday at 10:30 a. m. by Commander Harlan, who delivered his report. Grand Commander Weissert, of Wisconsin, was present and made a speech. Balloting for officers consumed the afternoon session. The official announcement of the result will be made known today, but it is known that the totals showed that R. A. Blodgett, of Chicago, was elected department commander, and F. B. Hamilton, of Quincy, senior vice commander. The encampment is the largest ever assembled in the history of the order in this state. At least two-thirds of the delegates elected are in attendance and nearly all of them are accompanied by their wives or some member of their family.

Points From Harlan's Address.

In Harlan's address he deprecated more than one woman's organization connected with the order and praised the Sons of Veterans. He commended the management of the Quincy Soldiers' home. After he had concluded he was presented with a diamond badge by the encampment and his staff and a basket of beautiful flowers by the women of the pension office at Chicago. The nominees for junior vice commander were Dan R. Frazer, of Mount Carroll; R. W. McCartney, of Metropolis; P. G. Gardner, of La Grange.

Exchanged Compliments with Harrison.

A telegram was received from ex-President Harrison in reply to an invitation to attend. He wired: "Thanks to my comrades for their kind invitation, but I am here in hunting outfit only and could not make a visit of ceremony. Some other time." The following reply was sent: "The encampment has unanimously voted that you come as you are. They want to see you now; no other time will satisfy them."

The Woman's Relief Corps.

The Woman's Relief corps met in the senate chamber with 320 delegates present. National President Margaret Ray Wickens, National Counsellor Sue Pike Sanders, National Inspector Flo J. Miles, and Sarah M. Bradford, member of the national executive board, were among the prominent leaders of the organization present. Nominations were made as follows: President, Mrs. M. R. M. Wallace and Mrs. L. J. Pitkin, both of Chicago; senior vice, Mrs. Salome Wilson, of Lincoln; Mrs. Esther Woods, of Springfield, and Mrs. E. Findley, of Quincy; junior vice, Mrs. Charity Nichols, of Galva, and Miss Maggie, of Decatur; treasurer, Mary E. M. Cooly, of Olney; chaplain, Mrs. Linnscott, of Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Eldred, of Gardner.

Campfire in the Evening.

There was a large gathering in Representatives hall at the campfire in the evening. Governor Altgeld made a brief speech to say that he did not come to talk, but gracefully welcomed the encampment to the capital. Commander Harlan made an appropriate reply. Mayor Lawrence welcomed the boys to the city and remarks were made by Mrs. Wickens, of Kansas, and Charles W. Pavey. General Stibbs recited a poem by James Whitcomb Riley.

Defeated a Woman's Suffrage Bill.

LANSING, Mich., March 17.—A bill extending the right of suffrage to women in municipal elections was defeated by the lower house yesterday by a vote of 38 to 39. Miss Susan B. Anthony was present. The vote, however, was reconsidered and the bill tabled, and will probably pass next time. The senate concurred in the amendments to the university tax bill. There is a joke on twenty senators, who Wednesday promised to vote for a bill which they had already voted for, and which had passed the house and been signed by the governor.

Three Men Hurt at a Fire.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 17.—The block owned by A. M. Smith, 247 and 249 Hennepin avenue, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. Loss $60,000, as follows: L. Kimball Printing company, $25,000; A. M. Smith, building, $15,000; New York restaurant, $5,000; miscellaneous losses to adjoining buildings, principally by smoke and water, $15,000. Three firemen were injured by a falling wall.

An Indiana Robber Caught.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—Louis B. Matheney, now under arrest here for a series of burglaries in Oakland, was identified yesterday as the chief man who robbed the paymaster of the Judson Powder works last year of $15,000 on the Berkeley train. Matheney is a son of Dr. T. J. Matheney, of Auburn, Ind.

America's Great Danger

AN ENGLISH COMMENTARY.

Said an eminent English scientist recently: "The danger that confronts the great American people to-day is not the possible adoption of a wrong financial policy for the nation, or the spread of socialism, or the increase of corruption among public men. All these are bad enough, to be sure, but they are as nothing compared to the terrible national disease—I had almost said national crime—of overwork. The mad rush for wealth is set at a killing pace, and thousands fall by the way every year.

You are likely to be one of the victims!

How do we know? Because it is the exception to find a man or woman of adult age in perfect health. Nervous Disorders are spreading with fearful rapidity. Among the symptoms, are—Backache, Biliousness, Cold Hands and Feet, Dizziness, Hot Flashes, Fluttering Sensation, Fainting, Headache, Hysteria, Irritability of the Heart, Melancholy, Failing Memory, Palpitation, Rheumatism, Short Breath, Sleeplessness, Nervous Dyspepsia, Sexual Debility, Fits, etc.

REV. C. A. CARROLL, pastor First Baptist Church, Yellow Springs, O., writes as follows: "I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for the past six months. I find it acts like a charm on the whole nervous system. I have not found its equal in giving immediate relief. Dr. Miles' little Nerve and Liver Pills only need a trial and they will recommend themselves to be the best pills in the market."

"For five years I have suffered from Nervous Prostration, I was unable to work or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine gave me relief, and one thousand dollars would not cover the good it has done me."—JOHN MINCHER, Youngstown, Ohio.

COMPROMISE FAILS.

Ann Arbor Strikers Go Back on Arbitration.

A GENERAL STRIKE IN PROSPECT.

The Last Stave of the Difficulty Worse Than the First—Chief Arthur Orders His Men to Defy the National Law and Refuse to Handle "Scab" Freight—Cause of the New Outbreak—Chicago Switchmen Credited With Troublous Intentions.

TOLEDO, March 17.—The recommendations of State Railroad Commissioner Kirkby and President Ashley were presented to the Ann Arbor strikers with every assurance that they would be accepted—it having been agreed on both sides to accept. Yesterday afternoon, however, the men refused to do so, as they did not meet their views in one particular. The principal objection was that the non-union men would not be ousted. The men say they will remain out and that all the employes in other branches of the road will go out also. The brotherhood men on connections, finding that they could not lawfully assist the strikers byboycotting, will, it is rumored, go on a general strike.

Arthur Defies Uncle Sam.

Commencing this morning, however, the engineers on all Toledo roads and all others making connections with the Ann Arbor will refuse to handle freight offered to that road. This is by order of Chief Arthur, who last evening stated that such was his decision. He said he gave it for publication. When asked what he would do about the circuit court order that the men must not refuse to handle the freight he replied it was one of the questions yet to be decided. He said the immediate reason of the order was because the Ann Arbor would not take back the men who left the company's employ.

Charges Kirkby With Treason.

Arthur charges State Railroad Commissioner Kirkby, who has been the peacemaker for three days back, with betraying the cause of the men. He says a clause in the terms as agreed upon was that all the old employes should be given their former positions without prejudice. Arthur says this clause was not presented to the company at all, which made a provision that all applications must be made in writing to the master mechanic of the road, who must recommend the men before they would be re-employed. This is equivalent to saying none of them could come back.

Strike Will Be Precipitated.

Governor Ashley says that freight will be offered today as usual. This will precipitate the general strike that has so long been feared. There is much worry among all railroad men here who had hoped Kirkby would untangle the trouble. The Lake Shore is having circular letters prepared which will be presented to all engineers and firemen containing a copy of the circuit court order to obey the interstate commerce law about accepting freight and warning them of their liability if they refuse.

Restless Chicago Switchmen.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Rumors are again current of unrest and agitation in railroad labor circles. It is said that all the employes of an extensive western system have made a demand for a general increase in wages. It is believed that in view of the active preparations made by the railroads to fill the places of men who determined to go out the switchmen thought it best to hoodwink the railroad officials and wait for a more opportune time to strike. It is now said that the switchmen intend to wait until after the World's fair is in full running order and then without the slightest warning stop every wheel in the country.

Striking Miners Give Up Hope.

PITTSBURG, March 17.—The Monongahela miners, who have been a strike for a period lasting more than seven months, no longer have any hope to gain any concessions from the Pittsburg coal operators, and it now appears to be only a question of time ere the greatest battle ever fought by the miners in this region will have reached an end.

CAUSE OF THE BOSTON FIRE.

He Is Seventeen Years Old and Has Cost the City $7,500,000.

BOSTON, March 17.—Lewis A. Wright, a 17-year-old youth, whose home is at Newton, was arrested last night by Pinkerton authorities for lighting five successive fires in the business district. On being confronted with the evidence he broke down and made a full confession. Within two months there have been more than a dozen fires in the business district, one entailing a loss of one life and $3,000,000, another the loss of five lives and $4,500,000 of property.

"I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today; and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by W. D. By-the-way, is there anything going to be done this season toward improving that beautiful spot of ground so geoerously donated to the city by Father John Dixon?

—Almost a fatal accident occurred at the Willow Creek bridge last week during the high water. The Early Dawn correspondent of the Amboy Journal thus mentions it: "As James Taylor and wife were crossing the Willow Creek bridge near the residence of Wm. Guthrie, the structure went down. —F. E. Leake and his father, Russel Leake, returned today from an Amboy visit.

—Jeff Kennedy and family have been summoned to Morrison by a telegram announcing that a sister of the former is lying at the point of death.

—The City National Clothing Store ingratiated itself with a large number of people today by presenting to every caller a handsome green silk shamrock. Five hundred were given away during the day and the store room was crowded all morning.

—The little town of Erie in Whiteside county seems to have got into a bad way lately. One evening lately a well-known widow and widower are reported to have left on the same train; and "they never came back," and not less than four marmarried men are reported to have skipped the town within a few weeks past, leaving their families to mourn or rejoice at their loss, as the case may be.

—At the Baptist Mission last evening a literary society was organized by Rev. G. A. Turner, State Missionary, with the following officers: President, M. Keen; Vice President, Eva Cook; Secretary, Minnie Houston; Assistant Secretary, E. McDermott; Trustees, George Mills, B. H. Houston and E. McDermon. Mrs. E. A. Hall, E. McDermon and M. Keen were appointed as a committee on constitution and by-laws; and Mrs. Hall also chairman of a committee on program. Other officers will be elected at the next meeting. It was decided to hold meetings each Friday evening at eight o'clock.

—The warming of conservatories by electricity the idea of two Swiss electricians, gives promise of good results wherever, as in Switzerland, cheap motive power may be had. A dynamo sends the current into receivers of special metallic composition, which become rapidly heated to a moderate temperature only, and give forth the heat like steam radiators. The advantages are considerable. The apparatus is very simple and cleanly, injurious gases are avoided, and the temperature can be readily controlled without risk of fire.

—A very sad accident took place at Ashton Wednesday evening. A ten year old boy, Charley Mott, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Mott, left his home near Ashton and walked down the track to the station, where he was going to meet a sister who was expected to arrive on the Sterling passenger, but an engine going east ran the boy down, killing him perhaps instantly, but his body was not found till midnight. The claim agent of the railroad company was in Ashton today adjusting the matter with the boy's parents.

—The Sixth Annual Tournament of the State Firemen's Association will take place at Canton, Ill., on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th of August next. There are fifty societies in the organization, of which the Monitor Hook and Ladder Company is one. The coming tournament will exceed in interest any preceding event of the kind, and fifteen hundred dollars will be given in cash awards to successful contestants. The Hook and Ladder Company of Dixon will enter the contest and with a picked team will from now on be in training to bring home one of the big prizes. In this noble emulation and public spirited effort they hope to receive the appreciative assistance of our citizens.

—Died of Brights disease on Monday evening, March 13, 1863, at Los Angeles, California, Mr. G. W. Seavey of Ft. Wayne, Indiana. Mr. Seavey was about 45 years of age. He was born and spent his early life in Palmyra, this county, and was a brother of W. W. Seavey of Prairieville. He was a class-mate of Hon. S. H. Bethea in the University of Michigan, from the classic course of which he graduated in the class of 1870. He subsequently conducted for four years The Chronicle, at Hoopstown, Illinois, after which he practiced law for a number of years at Ft. Wayne. Here he married a daughter of Perry A. Randall, a prominent citizen, who with her son and daughter survive him. For many years Mr. Seavey had been at the head of a large wholesale hardware business in Ft. Wayne, and accumulated quite a fortune; but six years ago consumption marked him for its victim, and much of his time since has been spent in travel in the effort to regain his health. His wife was with him when he died. He will be taken to Ft. Wayne for burial.

Rev. Skilling Visits Dwight.

Rev. G. W. Skilling, until recently pastor of the Universalist church of this city, but now of Princeton, has been to Dwight; not on his own account, but to accompany a patient; and the Bureau County Republican of yesterday has the following to say of his visit:

"Rev. Skilling reports his recent visit to Dwight, where he went accompany a patient, as having been very interesting and instructive. There are at present about 600 patients under treatment at the institution. Mr. Skilling remained long enough to familiarize himself with the method of treatment, the workings of the institution, and the surroundings. There is but little to the town to give it importance aside from the Keeley Institute. But this has grown so rapidly and to such proportions as to make business sufficient for the support of quite a city. During the last two years a number of fine buildings have been erected, most important among which are the large and elegant laboratory, in which are situated the offices of the Keeley company, and where are manufactured the enormous quantities of medicine consumed by the army of inebriates all over the land who are by them exercising the demons by which they are enslaved; and the large and elegently appointed Livingston Hotel, wherein so many seek retirement from the active world for a time while seeking to regain a forfeited manhood.

"Mr. Skilling reports a very interesting visit with Mr. Keeley, who is at present devoting himself to literary work in line with his giant sanitarium. There is a great call for articles from the learned Doctor's pen. He is beginning to command the recognition he deserves from the world, as one of the great pioneers in medical discovery, and among whom it is now not unusual as it certainly is not out of place to mention his name as the discoverer of the anti-toxine of inebriety, in company with such names as Koch, Harvey and Jenner."

A RESCUE THAT COST A LIFE.

He Saved the Young Lady, but Slipped and Was Dashed to Pieces.

I witnessed a most heroic incident many years ago. In 1865 two ladies and two gentlemen went over the Susquehanna river opposite a small town in Pennsylvania, to a place called Peter Steps. To get to Peter Steps, which is on a bluff 150 feet high, you had to go by a back road. On top of the steps were two tall pine trees, eight feet apart, and to tie a rope to the trees and swing out over the bluff was the object of the party. After the gentlemen had been swinging some time one of the ladies wanted to swing. Annie, a beautiful girl, got in the swing, and after a short time she exclaimed: "Give me a good push. I want to go out so I can see the road below." We did so, when snap went the rope, and with a terrible scream Annie went crashing down on the rocks.

Almost scared to death we ran to the road below. We could not see Annie, but on looking up there she was. Her clothes had caught on a small scrub oak tree, and she was hanging between heaven and earth. By this time a crowd had gathered on the road below. Everybody was excited and was wondering how to get her from her perilous position. Just at this time Harry Saylor came running up the road. Seeing what was wrong, he went up the back road to the pine trees, and catching the rope that was used for the swing descended.

But, alas, the rope was too short. He did not wait for a longer one, but inch by inch he picked his way to the oak tree, and by the greatest exertion he managed to get her to the base of the tree. Once there even he dared not leave go of Annie or the tree. In the mean time a longer rope was procured, and tying it around Annie's waist she was landed safely above. Not so with Harry. When near the top, he slipped. Down he went, landing on the rocks below, a bruised and bleeding mass.

Gently and tenderly was he taken home, but his work on earth was done. On the stone that stands at the head of his grave are these words, "Sacred to the memory of a man who bravely gave his life for another."—Cor. New York Press.

A Glimpse of New England Life.

Apropos of character sketching are the following little bits of New England life seen on a train the other day. A couple of middle aged country women entered the car at a way station. One, dressed in seamworn black and carrying a bright yellow pumpkin took the inside seat, and her companion, settling herself on the extreme edge of the remaining half, arranged various bundles comfortably around her. Presently they entered into conversation. "Hev you seen Mis' Brown lately?" inquired she of the bundles. "Why, hevn't you heard?" returned the owner of the pumpkin.

Her voice sounded aggrieved. "Mis' Brown an I don't speak jest now," she went on. "It happened like this. 'Twas at the last sewing circle. We were sittin side by side out to supper, an when the biscuits come along I broke mine open an says I to her, 'Well, I must say I've eat better biscuits 'n these. Ain't they spotted?' Well, them were Mis' Brown's biscuit—an since then she and me ain't spoke." "You don't say," commented her companion. "Hadn't Christians oughter to be careful?"—Boston Advertiser.

Sailors Fear Bridal Couples.

A gentleman who has recently returned from Europe tells of an odd superstition in vogue among the more ignorant classes of seamen. They are of the opinion that the presence of a young couple on their bridal tour aboard ship portends a violent storm. The Canadian, an Inman steamship, had a young couple aboard, and sure enough the ship was caught in a hurricane. A number of the sailors were intent upon throwing them overboard, and only the courage of the captain, who opposed the mutineers with a revolver in each hand, saved the lives of those who were enjoying the first weeks of their honeymoon.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

The Families of Patterson.

Tompkins with a "p" is not more significant than Patterson with two "t's" if tradition is to be trusted. According to the story that has come down from the 16th century, the Pattersons all spelled the name with one "t" before Queen Elizabeth set about marking those of her subjects who left the ancient Catholic faith and cast their lot with the Church of England. She insisted that all the Protestant Pattersons take to themselves a second "t," and since that time many have followed that mode of spelling the name.—New York Sun.

English View of Our Cooks.

The American is an admirable cook in theory; in practice indeed he may fail. The rush of modern ideas is too great for him. The sewing machine, the reaper and the corn elevator take up too much time. The application of electricity and steam to the arts of peace and the ever present cares brought on him by the working of the finest constitution in the world distract him from his boiling and his baking. He has indeed the same interesting reason for neglecting his clam chowder and his baked pork and beans, that most ingenious and admirable of all American kitchen products, that our King Alfred had for letting his hostess' cakes burn—immersion in the politics of his country.

Nevertheless the native born American has invented greatly. Clam chowder itself, as a mere work of art, reflects as much credit on his nation as vol au vent a financiere brings honor to France.—Black and White.

Mothers Recommends It.

The strongest recommedation that any article can have is the endorsement of the mothers of the town. When the mothers recommend it you may know that article has more than ordinary merit. Here is what the Centerville, South Dakoto, Citizen says editorially of an article sold in their town: "From personal experience we can say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has broken up bad colds for our childern. We are acquainted with many mothers in Centerville who would not be without it in the house for a good many times its cost, and are recommending it every day." 50 cent bottles for sale by W. D.
